

Expansion in China

In China, the demand for packaging machinery has been increasing at an incredible rate of 25% per year between 2000 and 2004.

Long success story

Bosch Packaging Technology is a world market leader in innovative packaging technology. Bosch Packaging Technology (Hangzhou) Co., Ltd. was founded at the beginning of 2001 as an entirely foreign-owned company and is located in Hangzhou, about 180 km west of Shanghai. Starting with 14 employees in 2001, the company grew quickly and currently (2006) has more than 130 employees.

Business fields

We produce and provide various types of pharmaceutical packaging machinery, such as capsule filling machines and syringe fillers, for the industries in China and South East Asia. In addition, we have expanded into other business fields, namely for food and confectionery packaging. In 2003, we began the manufacture of the TERRA 25 bag form fill and seal machine, followed one year later by the SVE 2510, a sophisticated high-speed bagger. Chinese customers producing candy and other confectionery also enjoy the market presence and technology provided by of our plant in Hangzhou.

Plant expansion

Because it is our goal to better serve our customer while supporting them with a continuously increasing range of machinery, we realized that our current production site had simply become too small. Therefore, in early 2005, the Bosch Packaging Management decided to expand with a new facility. On 10 November 2005, all company associates witnessed the exiting and important moment – the groundbreaking ceremony. Despite cold and rainy winter weather, construction work proceeded as scheduled in order to be ready in time for the roof closing ceremony in early April. The new plant will be put into use in August 2006. Then, on a total area of 35,000 square meters and with a workshop of 15,000 square meters the new plant will become the biggest R&D center and production base for Bosch Packaging Technology in Asia. We believe that with this expansion, Bosch Packaging Technology in Hangzhou will enjoy additional successful growth, continue to participate in the dynamic development of the Chinese and Asian markets, and be the right partner for all our Asian customers!
